Greetings,

Our meeting this month is December 27, 2023. We will start at 5:30 PM at the Post. It will be a holiday pot luck and white elephant exchange. First a definition of a white elephant: It's a metaphor used to describe an object considered expensive but without equivalent utility or value relative to its costs. In other words, its something you can't really use or may not work. In all respects, it is a piece of (almost) junk ummm I mean treasure.

There are some basic rules for the white elephant:

1. Nothing that leaks.
2. Nothing alive
3. Nothing that smells
4. Must bring a gift to get a gift

Easy stuff. The idea is to bring a treasure for others to enjoy, and oh-by-the-way something that you want to get rid of or has been ordered out of the house by your spouse. I have my gift all picked out. A treasure for sure!

Please RSVP to Alicia at redcat003@outlook.com not later than December 22, 2023 so we know how many people may attend for planning purposes. Remember, this is a family affair, so children, spouses, and significant others are invited if nothing else than to marvel at the magnificent gift you'll likely receive.

The Pot Luck List is:

First initial of last name

A – G Main Course

H – N Side Dish

O – T Dessert

U – Z Drink

We will Have water, plates and utensils.

See you on the 27th.
